Georgetown suffered somewhat from injuries and a disqualification in this game. In the first period Georgetown was penalized haif the distance to the goal posts when Pave White, after being called down for jumping on a player when he was tackled, threw the bail at refere. Gass, tils place was taken by Heiskell. Just after this Ritch, the centre, was so badly hurt that he was forced to tetire. Petriz took his place and played a stellar game especially on the defense. Petritz, when it came to backing up the line, outshone his other competitors, as thing tackle after tackle.

Fury came to life in this game, playing one of the best defensive games Georgetown suffered som ng one of the best defensive games reer. His tackling was hard and he wound up his career and sure, and he would up his careed at the Georgetown the way that will make him remembered. Little Billy Martin played his first game at end and did good work, stopping plays around his side of the line in the madown the field under punts. But few gains were made around Bergin. Burruss and Farrish greatly aided their team and next to Legge, played the best football for the visitors.

ustine Muson, Who Weighed 789 Pounds, Dies at Montreal. Montreal, November 28.—Justine Ma-m. who weighed 780 pounds and is said to have been the largest woman in the world, died here to-day.

Several menths ago she became insane and was taken in charge by the Assistance Bublique. In the institution she became notorious for exploits of strength when in a frenzy. Even the walls of her room failed to restrain her, and it was necessary to build a round house outside the main building especially for her.

Soon after the beginning of the sec-Soon after the beginning of the secon quarter. Washington and Lee scored again. The period began with the Generals having the ball on A. & M.'s twenty-five-yard line. On a crosstackle line play, Miller made eight yards and Buehring completed the first down on a fake wick formattion. Two more tries, and the Blue and White backs could make only four yards.
Then Washington and Lee was penalized fifteen yards for "roughing" it in the line.

Seeing that they had no chance to advance the ball against the Tarheel line, Miller determined to try a place kick from the thirty-five-yard line. Raferty held the pigskin, and the oval went spinning over the cross bar. The ball was slippery and the angle none too good, but Miller's aim was good, and his toe drove straight.

lem was such a one that Referee O'Brien gave one secision, only to reverse himself in the intermission between the halves. Line-up:

tunate fumble by Miller, captain of Washington and Lee, it is extremely doubtful if the Downhomers would have been able to cross the goal line of Washington and Lee at all.

Few and far between were the spectacular leatures. This was due to the muddy condition of the need, which prevented any long runs by the backs of either learn and made the silme-covered bail a difficult thing to handle. The only thing bordering on a play that would rouse the chilied-to-the-bone spectators came in the opening period. After each team had found the other's line impregnable and had exchanged kicks, the Generals forced the Aggies to their thirty-yard line. Just before this Jeffrey had bucked through left tackle for twelve yards. On the next three plays the Tarheeis had been unable to score, losing five yards for an off-side play. With no alternative. Champion called for a kick. Jeffrey tried to punt, but the Washington and Lee forwards broke through his defense and blocked the boot. Hurtt pounced on the bail, and with no obstacle standing between him and the final goal line almost jogged twenty yards for the first touchdown of the game. Miller kicked the only goal from touchdown of the afternoon, making the score? to 0 in favor of Washington and Lee.

Carolina registered its only points after a play following the touchdown was made. Raftery ran Hurtt's kick-off back ten yards, and three charges against the line by Buehring and Raftery and another first down. After an interchange of kicks Washington and Lee had the ball on its twenty-live-yard line. Using what is known as the shevlin, or Minnesota shift, Miller was called back to buck through the line with the ball.

The slippery ball escaped the outstretched hands of the burly Lexington captain, and across the muddy turf it rolled ten yards back of him. There, on the Washington and Lee ten-yard line. Sykes delivered the ball. On the first play Jeffrey slipped around left end for the only touchdown scored by the Aggies. Hurtt missed the try for goal.

A few minutes after this field goal grose a play over which there was much discussion in the stand and among the football sharps. The prob-
